

The finals will be played - former President of India late - adhyaksha Angan -

Kathak workshop in Gangtok

SE Report

GANGTOK, October 8: A six-day long Kathak workshop by Namrata Mali from Delhi Kathak Academy started Wednesday in Gangtok.

The workshop is a continuation of the nine-day workshop organized in Sikkim by international e-journal Caesurae along with Samskar Bharti, in collaboration with Natraj Kalakendra, Singtam, Daju Bohini Kalakendra, Gangtok and Sikkim Sangitalaya, Gangtok.

The Gangtok workshop is being held in the premises of Harkamaya College. Before Gangtok, a three-day long workshop was held in Singtam from October 4 to 6.

The venture has received a warm response from the people of Sikkim. In Singtam, there were about 40 participants of various age groups and in Gangtok, as of now there are about 30 participants, informs a press release.

Young artiste and instructor Namrata Mali is handling the workshop with expertise. On the inaugural day, she gave basic lessons on tatkara and Guru Bandana.

Sikkim with its potential for music, rhythm and fine arts, holds a great promise for the future, observed the organizers.