

An evening of classical music, poetry

SE Report

GANGTOK, October 15: An evening of classical music, dance and poetry was organized by Caesurae, an international e-journal, in collaboration with SMIMS, Sikkim University Music Department and Sanskar Bharati Tuesday in Gangtok.

The cultural evening was graced by many dignitaries including State Chief Secretary

A.K. Shrivastava, GMC commissioner C.P. Dhakal and Air Marshal G.S. Juneja, informs a press release.

Bhabani Shankar Dasgupta, from Kolkata, the eldest son of sarod maestro Pt. Buddhadeb Dasgupta played raga Jayjayanti on sarode. He was accompanied by Subir Adhikari on tabla.

Sreemati Namrata Mali, the young Kathak artiste from the Kathak Kendra in New Delhi, who had organized a nine-day long workshop in Sikkim had a kathak solo performance. She also prepared the students who had attended the workshop for 'Thumri' and 'Tarana' presentations.

The students of the Music Department, Sikkim University played an Indian classical orchestra on violin, sitar and flute.